Corridor talks progress, renewal expected

[P1] The Realm Trade Ministry reports that talks on renewing the Corridor Agreement are progressing well.

[P2] Both sides have accepted the principle of a further term, according to officials close to the talks.

[P3] The ministry expects a renewal to be signed before the current agreement ends.

[P4] Exporters should continue to plan on the existing terms in the meantime.

[P5] The notice reflects the position at the time it was written, when both delegations had described the talks as constructive. It does not say what remained unresolved, and it does not name the officials who briefed the ministry. Exporters were told to keep planning on the existing terms, which was reasonable while the agreement was still in force. The notice was not updated after the talks changed course.

[P6] The notice was written after a routine meeting between the two delegations. It records the points they agreed and leaves the remaining questions for the next round. It does not set a date for signature and does not describe the terms of a further term. Exporters were expected to keep their existing bookings while the talks continued.

[P7] A further notice will follow when the talks conclude.
