Dance troupe announces winter tour

[P1] A contemporary dance troupe from Vanir has announced a winter tour of six towns. The programme includes a new work inspired by folk stories and a shorter piece set to live percussion.

[P2] The troupe has twelve dancers and travels with a small technical team. Performances will take place in halls and community centres, with workshops for young people at three of the venues.

[P3] Tickets are available now, with concessions for students and older residents. The tour begins next month and ends before the new year, and the troupe will return to Vanir for a final performance. A short question-and-answer session with the dancers will follow the last show in each town.
